EDITH MAY RAN BRILLIANT RACE

With 115 Pounds in the Saddle She Ran Over Escutcheon and Other Good Ones.

AU REVOIR FOOLED TALENT.

Heavily-Played Favorite in Last Event Could Not Get Close to De Reszke and Gregor K.—Merry Acrobat by Head.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.

New Orleans, Jan. 9.—Edith May opened the eyes of her St. Louis admirers who thought they knew how good she was, when she picked up 115 pounds to-day and galloped over the good Eastern colt Escutcheon, who had up but 107. The race was six furlongs and the daughter of Indebted, though out in the early stage, came like a good horse in the run home and won with considerable ease. The favorite in the race, but was off so badly and so repeatedly that she never had a chance. Albert Simons, who was in the race, was the favorite in the race, but was off so badly and so repeatedly that she never had a chance. Albert Simons, who was in the race, was the favorite in the race, but was off so badly and so repeatedly that she never had a chance.

At the end of the race, Edith May was the favorite in the race, but was off so badly and so repeatedly that she never had a chance. Albert Simons, who was in the race, was the favorite in the race, but was off so badly and so repeatedly that she never had a chance. Albert Simons, who was in the race, was the favorite in the race, but was off so badly and so repeatedly that she never had a chance.
